

January 15, 2011

To All Members of LinkedIn Group USC-Astronautics

We have finally produced the first batch of our fabulous rocket-scientist T-shirts. One can see the T-shirt at http://astronauticsnow.com/astrousc_linkedin/index.html.

These T-shirts are for USC-Astronautics Alumni, Students, Faculty, and Supporters (Friends).

To get a T-shirt, please email ASTE's Senior Administrator Dell Cuason at cuason@usc.edu the following info:

1. Name
2. USC-Astronautics Affiliation – choose from the following:
 - a. Current student pursuing an ASTE degree (tell us which degree)
 - b. Current student pursuing non-ASTE degree who took in the past, or is taking now, an Astronautics course or courses (tell us which course)
 - c. Former student with a degree in Astronautical Engineering (ASTE) or in Aerospace Engineering with specialization in Astronautics (AEAN) – please specify whether your degree is BS, MS, Engineer, or PhD or Graduate Certificate. Tell us when you got the degree.
 - d. Former student with a non-Astronautics degree who took an Astronautics course or courses. Tell us which course(s) and when.
 - e. Current or former program faculty, adjunct faculty, or lecturer
 - f. Supporter (Friend) of USC-Astronautics. (If you are a parent or sibling of our student or alumnus, please let us know.)
3. Your address for receiving the T-shirt by mail.
4. Desired size – choose one: M, L, XL
5. Your email address. Please provide your permanent email address to stay in touch. You will not receive more than one or two emails per year from us.

Please note the number of T-shirts is limited. We will be sending them in February on the first-requested, first-served basis. If you do not get your T-shirt this year, we will send you one the next academic year when, as we hope, we will produce another batch.

If you know other Astronautics alumni, students, or supporters who are not members of the LinkedIn group, please suggest them to join us.

Ad Astra!

Mike Gruntman